

NOTED SPEAKERS ATTEND BANQUET

Enjoyable Social Occasion in Connection With Y. M. C. A. Convention.

DR. KENT IS TOASTMASTER

Various Group Conferences Held in Different Churches During Day.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Charlottesville, Va., April 7.—After putting in a busy day attending the various group conferences held in the various city churches and in Madison Hall, at the university, the several hundred delegates in attendance upon the thirty-second State convention of the Virginia Young Men's Christian Association met down tonight to an enjoyable banquet in the spacious armory of the Monticello Guard, the local military company.

The banquet was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Charlottesville Y. M. C. A., of which Mrs. James E. Irvine is president. Covers were laid for 500, and the dinner was served by sixty women attired in white, most of them members of the Y. M. C. A. Music was rendered by Rubin's Orchestra, and there was a song by a male quartet from the University of Virginia. Among the spirited hymns sung were: "The Son of God Goes Forth to War" and "The Morning Light Is Breaking."

Dr. Kent, toastmaster, of English literature at the University of Virginia, acted as toastmaster, and there were three addresses by Y. M. C. A. workers of national reputation. Dr. J. E. Brown, for many years State Secretary of Illinois, now dean of the Y. M. C. A. Training School, at Chicago, spoke on "Achievements and Trends of the Association Movement." The next speaker was James A. Whitmore, of New York, the secretary of "The Men and Religion Forward Movement," that is attracting such widespread interest in the religious world at the present time. The last topic of the evening was "The Association's World Wide Outlook," ably handled by Robert E. Lewis, general secretary of the Cleveland (O.) Y. M. C. A. Mr. Lewis was for many years a secretary in China, and has had a varied experience among the men of that vast empire. He held positions as traveling secretary for the International committee, and later as special secretary with the allied armies in the great blood uprising coming to the United States, he became State Secretary of Ohio, and after the death of G. K. Shurtleff was called to the general secretaryship of the Cleveland association.

The city men's conference was addressed by T. S. Williamson, of Danville; Jacob Umlauf, of Richmond; Wm. Knowles Cooper, of Washington, D. C.; Dr. Charles W. Kent, of the University of Virginia; Dr. S. Evans, of the University of Pennsylvania; and Dr. I. E. Brown, dean of Chicago Training School.

The college students' conference, held in Madison Hall, at the university, had for its speakers S. W. McGill, State Secretary, Tennessee; Dr. W. W. Brockman, of the University of Virginia; Wm. Knowles Cooper, of Washington, D. C.; Dr. Charles W. Kent, of the University of Virginia; Dr. S. Evans, of the University of Pennsylvania; and Dr. I. E. Brown, dean of Chicago Training School.

Square Brand Condensed Skimmed Milk is a wholesome, nutritious food

Skimmed milk is milk with only the fat removed. All the food solids, the most nourishing part of the milk, remain in it. Fat only serves to give heat. The solids called protein are the food in milk that builds body, bone and muscle and makes healthy blood. ALL THE PROTEIN IS LEFT IN SKIMMED MILK. Skimmed milk is more digestible than whole milk. The United States Government says: "The ways in which a skillful cook can utilize skimmed milk are almost endless and the protein thus added to the daily ration is of the utmost importance."

(U. S. Gov't Bulletin Nos. 74 and 413.) Square Brand Condensed Skimmed Milk is pure, skimmed cow's milk with the addition of pure cane sugar. It gives you more nourishing food for the money than you can get in almost any other way.

CONFERENCE HELD ON RACE TRACK MUDDLE

Attorney-General Williams, Judge Lawless and Commonwealth's Attorney Discuss Situation—Grand Jury Will Be Ordered to Investigate.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Norfolk, Va., April 7.—Attorney-General Williams came down from Richmond this morning and for several hours this afternoon was in conference with Judge Lawless, of the Norfolk County Court, Commonwealth's Attorney Richard Marshall, and the Norfolk county officers, relative to alleged violations of the bookmaking and gambling laws of the State at the Jamestown race track. As to what transpired or as to what decision was reached, no one would say definitely.

It is denied that the Attorney-General visited the track, merely acting on reports received from others. At least no arrests were made to-day. When seen, Mr. Williams went so far as to deny that he was here on the instruction of Governor Mann, to look into the race track muddle.

Others in the conference admitted that it was the matter discussed at the conference. From all that can be understood, there is little more that can be done in the matter except that Judge Lawless, who was in the conference, declared that he would bring the matter to the attention of the county grand jury, and instruct them to make a thorough investigation, indicating any who were believed to be guilty of violating the laws of the State.

This is taken to mean that the race will not be further interfered with by officers. It is the opinion of well informed lawyers, who have been consulted, that there is nothing else to be done, as the warrants, issued against operators have been dismissed, the resident magistrate declaring that no violation of the State's laws had been shown.

CHILDREN FIND STRONG FRIENDS

Speakers at Big Rally Urge Better Playground Facilities for Youngsters.

For the sake of the children of today and the citizens of to-morrow, several speakers last night addressed the meeting of the Federation of Mothers' Clubs, in its first rally of a series to be devoted to the movement of establishing playgrounds throughout the city. The meeting was presided over by Councilman E. J. Fuller, and after his earnest address in favor of the movement, others followed with addresses as strong.

All the speakers touched upon the urgent need of plenty of playground for Jack and Jill, and it was pointed out that the child who has the most chance for fresh air and who is kept from the streets is the one who will make the best citizen when his voting age arrives.

Mr. Fuller referred to the necessity of establishing playgrounds, and cited facts and figures obtained by him from other cities. Almost every city, he said, has a playground of larger or lesser size, because it had been proved that the child must have free rein for his growth, must have light, air and sunshine, have a chance to be as nature meant that children should be.

Mr. Fuller gave great credit to the Council Committee on Playgrounds, which has afforded so much assistance. He urged, in summing up, the establishment of a large playground in the central part of the city. This had been suggested before, but the property where it was proposed to place the playground has been sold, and some other site must be selected.

Keep Children From Streets. C. B. Cooke also spoke of the necessity of establishing playgrounds throughout the city, pointing out the fact that Richmond, so far as amusement for its children is concerned, is greatly behind other cities in the country. Major Vernon, Chief of Police, urged the necessity of having playgrounds, because they keep the children from the streets, and he gave a detailed description of his recent visit to Rochester, N. Y., where he attended the Playground Convention, and received much information.

W. W. Gillette spoke on the advantages of private playgrounds, and of the vast amount of good they have done for the children in their neighborhood. He was followed by Dr. Frank M. Reade, member of the City Council, who spoke enthusiastically of the good of playgrounds from the viewpoint of health, and gave a detailed description of his recent visit to Rochester, N. Y., where he attended the Playground Convention, and received much information.

Mrs. J. B. Spiers read an elaborate paper on the report of the official audience to the playgrounds institute held in Baltimore. Instrumental music between the addresses was furnished by Miss Edna Browning. On account of illness, Mrs. William Gemmell, president of the Federation of Mothers' Clubs, was absent, but her place was ably filled by Mrs. Howard Whitlock.

ACCUSED PRIEST FAINTS ON STAND

Ulla, he said, had insulted him, calling him a "Camorrist pig." This, said Vitozzi, "was cowardly, savage and inhuman, while the judge ought to represent honesty."

Vitozzi is sympathetic. Growing more excited as he continued, Vitozzi shouted: "These judges trampled not only upon the human, but upon the divine law. I reminded them that they must die, saying: 'Beware, beware, the anathema!'"

Urging the priest to calm himself, president Bianchi inquired whether he knew Giovanni Abbate-maggio, the informer.

"No," replied Vitozzi, who added: "All the statements of Abbate-maggio are false. I will ask him to swear on the ashes of his father and on the ashes of his son, hoping that he will be touched."

At this threat, Abbate-maggio, who had listened calmly from his solitary cage, broke his usual impassibility of manner and replied: "I will swear on anything you please."

Enraged, Vitozzi turned upon his accuser and cried: "I will curse you down to the seventh generation."

"I am sorry for you," rejoined the informer. At this the priest suddenly changed his tactics, and in a voice filled with pathos said: "No, I will not curse you. I remember that I am a priest, and must pardon even those who injure me. I wish to take you to my home."

In the same emotional strain Vitozzi continued with the reference to his mother's gray hairs, until he was overcome and the proceedings halted.

COFFEE HEART

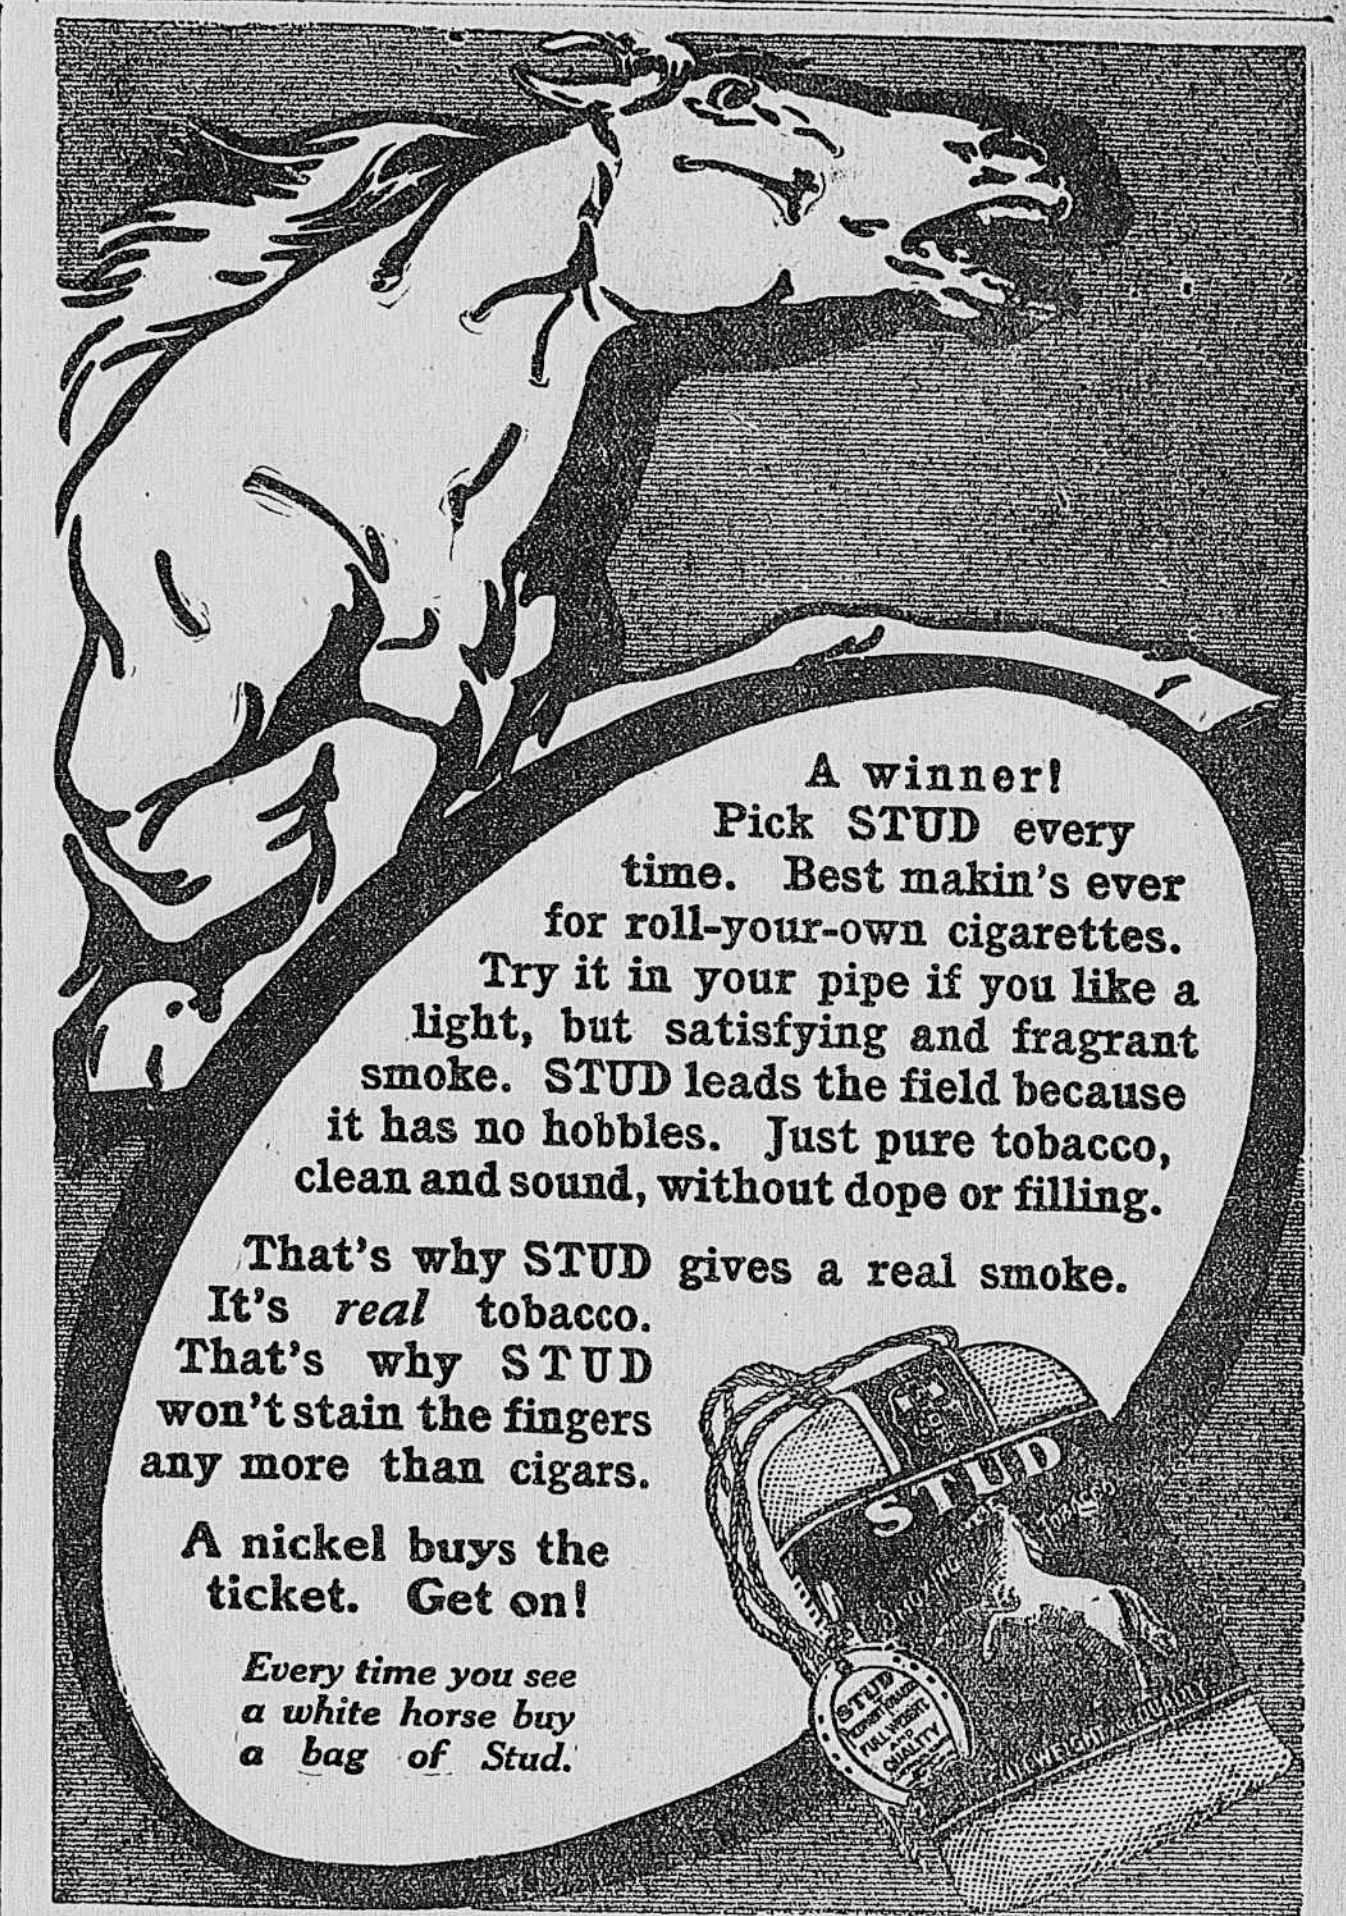

Very Plain in Some People.

A great many people go on suffering from annoying ailments for a long time before they can get their own consent to give up indulgence from which their trouble arises.

A gentleman in Brooklyn describes his experience as follows: "I became satisfied some months ago that I owed the palpitation of the heart from which I suffered almost daily to the use of coffee (I had been a coffee drinker for 30 years), but I found it very hard to give up the beverage."

"One day I read across a very sensible and straightforward presentation of the claims of Postum, and was so impressed thereby that I concluded to give it a trial."

"My experience with it was unsatisfactory. I learned how it ought to be prepared—by thorough boiling for not less than 15 or 20 minutes. After I learned that lesson there was no trouble."

News of South Richmond

South Richmond Bureau, The Times-Dispatch. "Phone Madison 155. In order to open up the southern extension of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, the Atlantic Coast Line Railway tracks, cross this street and for about a square beyond the intersection of the street with the street, Walker and J. E. Davidson, was appointed yesterday by Judge E. H. Wells in the Hastings Court room.

This committee was instructed to set work at once and to arrive at a decision of the value of the property that must be taken over by the city, and to do everything to expedite the consummation of the plans proposed. The lands to be condemned will probably cost the city several thousand dollars.

It is considered a wise move on the part of the city to open up this street, the property which must be condemned can be taken at a reasonable figure. With property values rising all over the Southside, and particularly in a place like this, which real estate operators recognize must sooner or later be acquired by the city, it is considered the less it will cost the city.

Several small business cases were taken under consideration yesterday. Judge Wells in the Hastings Court room, Part 2, and will probably carry an unenviable one day.

It is a remarkable fact that for the last two terms of the Hastings Court, Part 2, not a single criminal case has been on the docket.

Not a "barefoot" burglar. Lack of convincing evidence yesterday morning resulted in the dismissal of the charges against Chris Mathews, colored, thought to be the "barefoot" burglar of Post Hill Park, in the Oak Grove Court. The case was taken up yesterday by Judge Wells in the Hastings Court room, Part 2, and will probably carry an unenviable one day.

He was recognized by the officer, however, and arrested the following day on a warrant charging him with being a suspicious character against Chris Mathews, colored, thought to be the "barefoot" burglar of Post Hill Park, in the Oak Grove Court. The case was taken up yesterday by Judge Wells in the Hastings Court room, Part 2, and will probably carry an unenviable one day.

The county officers are making an effort to enter the city, who have recently been conducting such a successful campaign on the homes of Forest Hill.

The criminal record of the Oak Grove Court was heard yesterday by Judge Wells in the Hastings Court room, Part 2, and will probably carry an unenviable one day.

"Meadowville" with its 2,200 acres of fertile Chesterfield soil, is one of the best places on the James River, and is especially celebrated on account of the unusual richness of its land. This farm offers great attraction for business, as gains of every description abound there, especially water fowls.

The farm is situated on the river bank about sixteen miles from the city and about two miles from Dutch Gap.

Freemen Rent Workers. Willing to put their best foot foremost in order to hasten the happy day when their new quarters will be ready, the newly elected members of Engine Company No. 15, organized in Washington Ward, took up the shovel and hoe and themselves dug the boiler hole in the floor of the handsome engine-house in process of construction at the corner of Tenth and Bainbridge Streets.

The boiler in question is to be placed immediately behind the engine, and is to be used to keep steam constantly in the engine in order that it may be ready for action the moment an alarm rings. Among innovations to be introduced in this engine-house is an elevator for feed, a thing which is unknown in other engine-houses in the city. With Captain Cosby superintending and working as hard as the men, the freighters set to America, met last night at 8 o'clock in Cersley's Hall, Swanboro. Select Council, Daughters of Liberty, held its regular weekly meeting last night at 8 o'clock in Toney's Hall.

New South Council, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, held its weekly meeting last night at 8 o'clock in the Odd-Fellows' Hall.

Indians, Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, will meet Monday night at 8 o'clock in its lodge rooms.

ONE-LEGGED MAN IN FIGHT WITH ONE-ARMED WOMAN. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Harrisonburg, Va., April 7.—From Augusta comes a story of a combat extraordinary. A one-legged man named Willie Brooks and a one-armed woman named Minnie Brown disagreed as to the ownership of a stove, and flew at each other hammer and tongs. Despite the missing limbs, the fracas was not lacking in strenuousness. Nobody was killed, but they were tried in Staunton and fined $1 each and costs.
